Come and work for me as an intern
The job is 5 days a week 9am-6pm Your main duties will be photocopying and sucking arse. At the end of the 6 month internship there is a possibility of a paid job*. The job would be totally fucking boring and completely pointless. Most people who work for us and get paid just go on Facebook all day, so if you did get a job here after the 6 month unpaid internship would strongly suggest you get a facebook page, so that you can fit in with the other boring twats who work here.
I'm sorry but we can't pay travel expenses. We're a small/new/independent company so that makes it ok to encourage people to work for free with little or no benefit or enjoyment on their part.

* This possibility is very very small

Come and attend my course at university. Your main areas of research will be networking and bullshitting.
At the end of the 3 year course there is a possibility
who study here just drink all the time, so if you do decide to study here I strangely suggest you get an alcohol problem, so that you fit in with everyone else.
I'm sorry but the course costs £9000 a year and we can't afford not to charge you.
We're an arts/media/science/Law uni so that makes it ok to encourage people to run up debts of up to £40,000 with little or no point.

* This possibility is very very small
